

beta

Share presentations over Internet (pdf, ppt and other documents)

Premium Plan

Why use it?

online events, conferences, e-learning, lectures, presentations of results...

During a conference call there may be a need to use a document or documents as part of presentation. The documents can be shown at the speed of the presentation.

This reaches potential customers in a cost-effective way.

Benefits

The host can communicate with colleagues in real time without spending time and money on travel.

Enables checking guidelines and goals with the sales team, presents results or the next strategy without displacing staff and ensures that the message is clearly received by all those involved

Just agree a time then call to set up the conference call/web conference.

Delivers the important information to be shared with participants (workteam, customer, suppliers). It has been demonstrated that a message is more effective if accompanied by a vocal explanation with graphics or text through the web conference.

How

Establish a conference call through your Premium plan, where all the participants can talk to each other without need for any additional equipment, from anywhere: You only need a phone.

Make the presentation of your pdf or ppt document through webconference. The participants who have a computer with Internet access may then follow your visual presentation.

Use and conditions

1) The webconference.es service is included in the Premium plan conference call. When you establish a conference call you can then use the Web presentation (up to 20 participants).

2) Although at the moment it requires reservation for use, the option for exclusive use can be revised at a later date.

3) Fees: currently use of the service (phase beta) is free and treated as an additional facility of the Premium Plan. For extensive use ad-hoc tariffs will be applied.

Subscription

The customer sends an email to their Key Account Manager or info@smartic.es indicating the wish to use the web conference facility.

Reservation

The client sends an email in advance to reserva@webconference.es indicating the time/date of the meeting, the chosen security code for same (between 4 and 8 digits), and the presentation file that will be given (must be a pdf or ppt document).

On the time/date agreed, after joining the conference call, the participants enter the internet address <http://webconference.es>. The host "brings the meeting to order" and the presentation can begin.